

Iconic Art Pieces from Hedley Studios Launch in St. Barths

December 18, 2024

For the first time ever, Hedley Studios is bringing their jaw-dropping, limited-edition drivable art to the Caribbean. From December 20, 2024, to March 20, 2025, the iconic pieces will take center stage in a sleek, beachside pop-up gallery at the world-famous Le Barthélemy Hotel & Spa. Picture stunning works of automotive art showcased against the crystal-clear waters of Grand Cul-de-Sac Bay—a setting as luxurious as the cars themselves.

“This is a one-of-a-kind opportunity to experience Hedley’s masterpieces up close in St. Barths,” says Sebastien Maingourd, General Manager at Le Barthélemy Hotel & Spa. “Bringing together art, design, and sustainability, this collaboration is a natural fit for our guests who crave extraordinary experiences.”

On display: three showstoppers you won’t want to miss.

- The Aston Martin DB5 J - think James Bond vibes, scaled to 66%
- the Ferrari Testa Rossa J - a fully electric, 75% scale nod to the 1957 racing legend
- the Bugatti Baby II - a hand-built, fully electric replica of the iconic 1924 Bugatti Type 35, complete with a solid silver Bugatti emblem

Crafted by hand in Hedley's Oxfordshire studio, each piece is an extraordinary blend of history, precision, and innovation—100% electric and endlessly customizable. The gallery runs until March 20. We are currently working to confirm driving experiences for Le Barthélemy's guests and can update you once those details are locked in.
